

Save
the Date

SAEOP Professional Development Opportunities

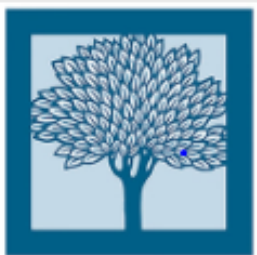

March 2021 Highlights

There are some incredible—and FREE!—Professional Development sessions this month, including SPS's annual March Madness training event. We've highlighted a few of the not-to-be-missed learning opportunities below.

March 3 @ 2pm: Shortcut or Short Circuit?

This job-alike day session will review the shortcuts our brains use when processing information and how those shortcuts can be helpful or harmful to our work. Learn how to work with (or against) the natural tendencies of the human brain to help yourself and others. Register HERE.

March 12-13: WEA ESP National Conference

Join WEA for this year's ESP ACT Conference March 12-13. This is a free virtual event for WEA members only. SAEOP President, Elizabeth Ward Robertson, will be co-hosting an affinity group at this conference.

March 19–21: NEA ESP National Conference

This is the premier professional development opportunity for education support professionals across the nation. And, it's free this year! Learn more and register at nea.org/esconference.

March 27: SPS March Madness PD Event

This annual Professional Development event provides a full day of workshops tailored to the needs and interests of Seattle Public Schools SAEOPs. Select your sessions and register HERE.

On-Demand Learning

Office Dynamics has many free webinars centered around skill building for administrative assistants. Find solutions to common assistant frustrations and improve efficiencies, workflows, and work relationships.

<https://officedynamics.com/webinars/>

